Work Samples Recommendations

Do your work samples demonstrate a cohesive and current artistic vision? Whether your practice is focused within one discipline or is multidisciplinary, we encourage you to submit work that reflects what you are actively developing and where you hope to take your practice next. Including too many varied or older samples without a clear context can make it harder for reviewers to understand your current focus and direction.

A question to consider: Does my work sample selection demonstrate a cohesive & current artistic vision, as articulated in the narrative section?

Is it current? When possible, samples should not be more than five years old. The program looks to support the artist you are today and the creative work you plan to pursue in the future.

Please understand that these are just recommendations. Ultimately, you know your own work best. Use your best judgment to determine what constitutes the most effective representation of your work.

Use of AI: If artificial intelligence has been used as a tool to support your work in some way, please include an explanation. Works purely generated through AI are not eligible.
